About USDT

Tether (USDT) is what's known as a "Stablecoin" – a cryptocurrency designed to provide a stable price point at all times. The USDT cryptocurrency was created by Tether Limited to function as the internet's Digital Dollar, with each token worth $1.00 USD and backed by $1.00 USD in physical reserves.

Benefits of USDT

The stablecoins or stable cryptocurrencies arrived to change the way in which we mobilize and protect our money from the volatility of the rest of the cryptocurrencies. That is precisely one of the functions of USDT, a cryptocurrency that is always worth a dollar and that we invite you to learn about.

A stablecoin It is a cryptocurrency that maintains a fixed value with respect to a fiat currency high value, a cryptoactive or some commodity. And it is that regardless of which fiat currency or security has been chosen, a stablecoin will maintain a 1:1 relationship with it. That is the main difference between stablecoins and other cryptocurrencies whose volatility is part of their nature.

In the case of USDT, it has been created with a 1:1 parity with respect to the dollar. This means that 1 USDT will always have a value equal to or very close to 1 $ USD. further the name of USDT comes from uniting, USD (financial symbol of the dollar) with T (for Theter).
